

act
before
you
think

despite all the times i heard “think before you act”, i’ve learned that for an entrepreneur, the opposite is true.

when you’re doing something that hasn’t been done before, no amount of thinking is going to tell you how to do it.

you’ve got to try something, see what happens, and learn from it. the best entrepreneurs think less and do more.